WOULD LIMIT LAKE COUNTY RURAL TAVERNS

Two Hundred and Fifty Taverns Are Too Many, Say Supervisors

Limitation of the number of taverns in rural sections of Lake county is a goal that will be sought by the board of supervisors this year, the board decided at a meeting Tuesday.

There are 500 taverns in Lake county, of which 250 are located in rural areas, it was revealed.

The limitation will be sought through rigid enforcement of sanitation and fire prevention regulations. A motion for a survey of the tavern situation was passed and the liquor commission, which includes Dan Heintges, Cliff Evans and Harold E. Pilliant, was instructed to bring in a report before the April meeting of the board.

Zoning Ordinance

A motion was brought to extend the life of the temporary zoning ordinance for 90 days so that the permanent ordinance, now in the final stages of preparation, may be brought before the board for consideration in May.

The supervisors adopted a resolution appropriating $5,182.06 from the state gas tax refund to the county for the payment of interest on Jan. 1, 1940, on the third Lake county highway bond issue of 1926. The road bond issue was for $730,000 and is to be retired by 1946 with state refund money.

STAMP CLUB PLANS EXHIBIT MARCH 10

Third Annual Exhibition and Banquet to Be Held at High School

All persons who are interested in stamp collecting are being invited to enter their collections in the exhibit the Antioch High School Stamp club will sponsor on March 10.

This is the third annual exhibition to be sponsored by the club. Last year's event drew between 30 and 40 entries, submitted by students and others interested in philately.

The display will be held in the library at the high school building. It will open at 1:30 o'clock, continuing through the afternoon. Anyone interested in stamps will be welcome to attend, the club announces.

A banquet for stamp club members is planned for 7:30 o'clock. At 8:15 a play, especially written for the occasion by Mrs. George Phillips of the high school's drama department, will be given under the auspices of the Stamp club. A talk on stamps is also to be a part of the evening program.

Persons interested in taking part in the exhibit may communicate with Miss Alice Smith, the Stamp club faculty adviser, at the high school, or with Mrs. Paul Ferris.

Richmond Youth Accident Victim

Norman Mecklenburg, 11, of Richmond, was killed when a car driven by his father, Frank Mecklenburg, collided with a truck of which Roy Nelson, of Antioch, was the driver, Friday morning near Richmond.

Surviving are his father, his mother, Emma Mecklenburg, and a brother, Edwin, all of Richmond. A sister, Mrs. Dorothy Woods, resides at East Moline, Illinois.

Members of the Antioch Lions club were hosts at a dinner and dance at Brass Ball tavern Monday night. The guests were wives of Lions and lady friends of the unmarried members. After more than a year of community service work, the affair Monday night was planned solely as an entertainment feature.

Robt. Mann headed the committee on arrangements, and Russ Boehm of Libertyville, zone chairman for Lions International, acted as toastmaster.

Following the dinner the Milton Schuster troupe of singers, dancers and skaters staged an entertaining floor show, with President Walter Scott and Bill Brennan, champion roller skater, closing the act in a speedy whirling derby. Eddie LaVigne's orchestra played for the dancing.

The aged man was found dead Tuesday at his home near Liberty Corners when his niece, Mrs. Oren Turnock, of Kansasville, came to visit him. Apparently he was the victim of heart failure with which he had been afflicted.

He was born near Burlington, Wis., Dec. 17, 1853, and had spent the greater part of his life in Salem township. Besides his niece, Mrs. Turnock, he is survived by two other nieces who live in Iowa. Mr. Buff was never married.

COLORFUL DRAMA PROGRAM PLANNED

Plays for Annual Tourney at High School Are of Unusual Interest

From Hollywood to Judea, from the old England of Dickens' time to colonial America and Major Andre's trial range the settings of the nine plays to be given in Antioch Township High school's annual Inter-class Drama tournament Monday and Tuesday evenings, March 20-21.

Colorful costumes of the various eras and countries are expected to add still further to the interest of the program. The plays will be given in the high school auditorium at 7:30 each evening.

Monday evening's plays will be "Isn't It the Truth?" a farce-comedy of Hollywood; "Suitable for Charity," a comedy of family life; "A Unicorn and a Fish," a comedy; and "David Copperfield," an episode from the story by Dickens.

Of equal interest is Tuesday evening's program—"But Now There's Balford," a play of youth; "The Gift," a story of the time of Christ; "A Snug Little Kingdom," an English play; "History in the Making," the story of Major Andre and "Spreading the News," an Irish folk play.

Mrs. George Phillips is directing the plays, with Billie Mae Lightsey, Parker Hazen, Mildred Long and Doris Klass as assistant directors for Monday evening, and Betty Lu Williams, Jean Perry, Helen Lubkeman and Shirley Hennings assisting on Tuesday.

The plays, according to custom, will be open to the general public. A nominal admission charge to defray expenses is being made.

Antioch Man Will Share in Estate

George Fitzgerald, 911 Main street, Antioch, is one of the heirs to the $4,500 estate of his sister, Mrs. Catherine Adair. Mrs. Adair died in Chicago in December, without leaving a will. The other heirs are her husband, three other brothers and a niece.

LIONS TO SEE BAIT-CASTING CHAMPION IN SOUND MOTION PICTURE

Tony Accetta Will Show in Pictures How It Is Done

"Let's Go Fishing," a two-reel sound motion picture starring Tony Accetta, U. S. professional all-around bait and fly-casting champion, will be shown here before the Antioch Lions club at the dinner-meeting to be held Monday evening, February 27.

The films will be of especial interest to residents of this region as it presents a comprehensive lesson in fishing and bait-casting with emphasis on sportsmanship. Fishing is one of the major pastimes in this locality and the sport has developed many nimrods who bring a mean casting rod. It will prove interesting to view the technique that made the champ tops in the sport.

The films were made with the cooperation of Kenneth A. Reid, general manager of the Isaak Walton League of America, and William S. McLean, director of advertising for the Fisher Body Division of General Motors. It is released through Arthur Kudner, Inc., of Detroit.

HIGH SCHOOL FLU SITUATION BETTER

Classes Are Resumed This Week; Other Schools Show Improvement

Influenza cases at Antioch High school had dropped from 60 or 70 cases last week to 14 yesterday afternoon.

Members of the faculty, eight of whom had been ill, were all back, and more students were returning to classes daily.

The school re-opened Monday after a week's vacation, called because of the amount of sickness prevailing. Antioch Grade school did not close.

Lake Forest High School, which closed last Wednesday, is open again. Waukegan Township High school did not close, but reported the number of students absent on Tuesday had dropped to 276 from the 435 absent Monday.

Holy Child High school at Waukegan was to resume classes this morning after a several days' recess. Immaculate Conception Grade school will remain closed all week.

At Warren Township High school, where more than a fourth of the students were ill early this week, the number of absentees was steadily decreasing.

Chick Brooding to be Night Class Subject

The brooding of baby chicks and their care up to laying age will be discussed by C. L. Kutil at the evening school class meetings in Antioch High school Wednesday evening, Feb. 22, at 8 o'clock. On March 1 Mr. Griffin, an experienced poultry man, will be present to talk on "Feeding for Egg Production." All poultrymen are invited to attend these lectures. C. L. Kutil, instructor, announces.

In the women's section on home-making Wednesday evening, Mrs. Ruby Richey will lead a discussion on "Recreation in the Home."

In spite of the "flu" and cold weather which kept some away, the attendance at last evening's classes was much better than that a week ago. Mrs. Richey talked on "Advertising Propaganda and How We Should Take It," while Mr. Kutil presented a two-hour discussion on "Hog Production."

Antioch Water Supply Pronounced Satisfactory

The quality of Antioch's water supply was approved by A. C. Baxter, M. D., acting director of the Illinois health department's sanitary engineering laboratories, in a report on the periodical chemical analysis.

James G. Weart, Jr., chemist, stated that samples taken by L. E. Woodman at the tap in the pump house showed the water to be suitable for general domestic purposes.

It is moderately mineralized and somewhat "harder" than the average for ground waters in Illinois, but the iron content is low. The mineral quality remains similar to that revealed in analyses made in 1931, it was reported.

There Is A Difference

Two news dispatches were sent from Moscow, Russia, on the same day recently. Both are interesting to every American, and should be especially interesting to anyone who might have an idea that Communism isn't as bad as it is painted and that Communism is the ideal government of the working man.

One of the stories concerned the beginning of prosecutions under the new labor regulations. The first person put on trial was an employer, accused (believe it or not) of being too lenient with one of his workers.

Under the new regulations it is a criminal offense if any employer fails to discharge a worker who is absent or late without legitimate reason. In this particular case, secret police found an absent employee at home in bed. They said his excuse wasn't legitimate, so the employer now faces a prison sentence of six months to three years.

The other story concerned a new speed-up of the work speed-up system. By official decree, factory workers must now do 25 per cent more work each day and be paid 14 per cent less for it.

It would seem, therefore, the soap-box orators who shout "down with the American Way" and advocate the "Communist way," are not giving all the facts.

With these facts it isn't hard to choose. We'll stick to the old American custom of living and working the American Way.

Let's All Work Together

A healthy state of economic affairs in America can be one of the strongest barriers against an infiltration of foreign isms into this country. As the nation swings into the new year a prosperous state of business does not seem out of the question; if only there can be a national recognition of the fact that the route to progress lies in teamwork and pulling together by all groups.

The growing recognition that petty bickering and finger pointing will get us nowhere is one of the healthy signs on the horizon today.

Through the united effort of all groups working toward our Number One goal—that of putting men back to useful pursuits in private industry—sound recovery can be achieved.

Foreign isms, which destroy religious and political liberties, have all had their root in economic distress and human misery. We should never forget that if all groups in the nation will work together toward the common objective of sound economic recovery the door will be shut abruptly in the face of ism-mongers who would undermine our institutions.

A slogan that is today echoing the length and breadth of the land is—"Let's All Work Together." And if such a slogan can be translated into action the threat to religious, political and economic liberties will be materially lessened.

Not a Crew of Skinflints

It's only human for some persons who are refused loans by a bank to go away cursing banking in general. They paint bankers as a crew of heartless skinflints.

However, a banker doesn't refuse a loan because he wants to. He refuses it, when he does, because he must —because either the law or his obligation to his depositors makes it impossible to grant the request. As F. L. Lippman, Chairman of the Board of the Wells Fargo Bank, recently wrote, "There is no real difference between the applicant and the bank as to their interests and final purposes. It is no kindness to a man to make him a bad loan, for if he cannot repay and the bank takes a loss, the borrower himself is ruined. The interests of the two are in fact the same. Both want to make the loan if it is a good loan, but neither at bottom wants to make a bad loan. Inevitably there are some errors of judgment on both sides, but it is the banker who must take the responsibility. If he is too sanguine, there may be a loss for the bank and tragedy and ruin for the borrower."

A bank is just as sound as the judgment of the men who operate it. After all, the money in the bank doesn't belong to the bankers. We will get a much clearer picture of banking if we divorce ourselves of the mistaken notion that bank officials want to squeeze every nickel until the eagle screams. The average banker is eager to make sound loans to build up his community. As his town and state grow and prosper, his bank grows and prospers with them. The banker is simply the servant of his depositors. He is bound by rigid rules of law and ethics. And nine times out of ten, when he refuses a loan, there's a sound reason back of it, and he's doing the applicant a favor, as well as saving the bank from probable loss.

A Law on Trial

Considerable will be said and written in Washington in the weeks ahead about the National Labor Relations Act. It will be the subject of major debate in Congress. The question will be: Should the Act be amended, repealed or simply left as is?

Judging from public opinion, it certainly should not be left on the books in its present form. Everyone—with the exception of the C. I. O. and a few officials in Washington—seem to agree that in its present form it is not in the best interest of the public.

That public opinion favors doing something about the Act is undoubtedly due to the industrial strife the public has seen created by the hurriedly drafted law. Such strife (strikes, violence, etc.) is not to the public taste, nor is it for the public good. In fact it is a public nuisance.

Why say the Act is responsible for industrial strife? Some may ask. The answer is that although it rightfully guarantees the privileges of employees, it fails to protect them or their employers from outside coercion—professional labor agitators, to be specific, and Communists who use labor as a vehicle for creating national bitterness. There are other inequalities in the Act, but that is one of the major ones in the eyes of the public, for at the bottom of almost every major industrial strike since enactment of the labor law, there have been professional labor agitators.

This Congress, therefore, can establish itself high in public esteem if it does something to make this law workable and deal equal justice to all sides. In equal justice there is peace.

Many people, who probably have forgotten that not so many years ago they attached only a 2-cent stamp to letters, probably have forgotten, too, that the 3-cent postage is supposed to expire next June 30.

The 3-cent postage was established as an emergency tax measure.

Don't stock up on 2-centers, however, for the budget submitted to Congress calls for a continuance of the 3-cent rate.

BEVERAGE ALCOHOL AND ITS SOCIAL PERILS

LESSON TEXT—Amos 6:1-6; 1 Peter 2:11, 12; 4:3-5.
GOLDEN TEXT—It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth.—Romans 14:21.

"Hazards in the use of alcohol in a machine age"—this is the topic assigned for our lesson today. It is a good one and worthy of the careful thought of every intelligent citizen. With automobiles alone killing over a hundred persons a day, and the obvious connection between alcohol and death on the highway, we might say much about the folly of trying to cut down traffic accidents while we are licensing more and more "livers" along the road to fill the drivers with the destructive stuff.

There is much that might be said about the social havoc that is being wrought by alcohol. It is bad enough that a man pays 25 cents for a drink, but even worse, that he gives 25 minutes of his life for each indulgence. But the liquor industry covers that up under a mask of festivity, making booze look like a desirable adjunct to congenial and successful living. It does not picture the bleary eye and the babbling tongue of the drinker, nor does it present the broken-hearted mother, the devastated home, the ragged children, and the empty cupboard. Liquor is one of America's major problems. Let us face it.

The Scripture portions assigned for our lesson rightly emphasize fundamentals, the first being a call to awake from a false sense of security, the second emphasizing that this is a spiritual battle, and the third pointing the way of victory as being in holy living.

I. Foolish Security When Surrounded by Danger (Amos 6:1-6).
Surprise attack is always effective. Satan would tell us all to sleep in the assurance that "God is in his heaven—all's well with the world." God is in heaven and it is certain that ultimately He will reign over all, but just now the world is in the hands of the Wicked One (1 John 5:19).

The people of Amos' day, to whom the message was addressed, had come to the point where prosperity had made them at ease when they should have been active, foolishly secure when they should have been sacrificially serving their fellow men who were in need. The picture is astonishingly up-to-date. Today in our own land the Gold Coast and the slums rub elbows, but few of those who have plenty are concerned about those who have not. In the eyes of most people the purpose of gaining possessions is to relieve one from the necessity of work and to enable one to evade life's responsibilities.

America needs to awaken to its dangers, and we repeat that not the least of these is the liquor question. We must either win a victory over it, or it will destroy our people.

II. Spiritual Warfare—While at Peace with God (1 Pet. 2:11, 12).
"Fleshly lusts, which war against the soul" (v. 11) are the object of serious concern on the part of every sincere Christian. There is a battle on, and the enemy of our soul knows how to make the abuse of the normal impulses and appetites of man his strong ally. The rush of modern life, the increasing use of stimulants, both natural and artificial, the very luxury in which many live, these things tend to give the flesh and its desires undue prominence, and not infrequently cause even God's children to fall into sin.

We are called to a holy warfare, but that does not mean that we live in a constant turmoil. We are, after all, pilgrims and strangers in this world. Our citizenship is in heaven (Phil. 3:20) though we live on earth. In the heart we have peace, and that enables us to fight a good fight against the world, the flesh, and the devil.

III. Doing the Will of God in a Self-willed World (1 Pet. 4:1-5).

Essentially there are two opposing principles operative in the lives of men—we either are controlled by God's will, or by self-will. The flesh is really man's personality controlled by his own self-will. It results in the kind of life described in verses 2 and 3. When a man becomes a Christian he should move over into the will of God.

Such a man may be regarded as strange, but as a matter of fact, men will recognize his godliness (see 1 Pet. 2:12). Dr. Will H. Houghton tells of "a soldier who ultimately was made a Christian believer through seeing his companions make fun of another soldier, who was a believer in Christ. The thing that impressed him was the fact that though they made fun of this man, they left their money in his possession for safekeeping!" Do we have that kind of a testimony?

When He Doesn't Worry
His Satanic majesty never worries about the man who has come to the conclusion that there is no devil.

BLINDFOLD TEST TELLS HUDSON COMFORT

In a unique test conducted in Detroit, seating comfort of Hudson's new Airfoam seats deserves the phrase "You can tell it blindfolded," according to official observers. In a room containing a number of automobile seats, visitors were invited to select the most comfortable cushions while blindfolded. Seats were shifted at intervals to obtain the most impartial results. Hudson Airfoam cushions scored 100% recognition for combining softness with firm support of the body. Photo shows how test was made.

The stove, without having previously signified its intention to do so, tipped over with a crash, throwing the tea kettle to right and the coffee pot to the left of the child. Amid the shrieks from the affrighted parents the child, unhurt, coolly said, "Pa, get me out of this."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Soul" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Sentinist, on Sunday, February 12.

The Golden Text was, "Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us; this is the Lord" (Isaiah 25:9).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary; I am the Lord, and I will set my tabernacle among you; and my soul shall not abhor you; and I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people" (Leviticus 26:2, 11, 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul and Spirit being one, God and Soul are one, and this one never included in a limited mind or a limited body. Spirit is eternal. Divine. Nothing but Spirit, Soul, can evolve life, for Spirit is more than all else" (3:35).

Ill. Federal Student
Aid Reaches 22,000

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 15—Federal student aid allocations under the National Youth Administration for Illinois will permit approximately 22,000 high school and college students to gain their education by part-time work during the current semester, according to announcement today by William J. Campbell, state NYA director. The allocation totals $613,397.

"While this sum will allow for an increase in the number to be aided over the monthly average of the first semester," explained Mr. Campbell, "it does not mean necessarily that the student quotas in most high schools and colleges will be raised. Additions may be made only where the educational institutions did not use their full quotas during the first semester."

The average aided monthly during the first semester was slightly more than 20,000 and the total expended was $517,637.

Between September 1, 1938, and Feb. 1 last, 1,615 high school boys and girls received student aid benefits in NYA District Number Two, comprising nine counties in this section of the state, including Lake county.

Federal student aid is extended primarily to needy youths. Under a recent law, youths receiving this aid must be a citizen of the United States. Those on the NYA program are given after-school work, performing such tasks as teacher assistants, tabulating laboratory specimens, helping in offices and libraries and landscaping school grounds.

High school students are paid a maximum of $6 per month; college students an average of $15 per month and graduate students an average of $25 per month for their part-time work.

T. B. ASSOCIATION
EXAMINES 1,402
PATIENTS IN 1938

More Than One Thousand
Visits Made to Homes,
Report Reveals

A year full of achievement, during which 1,402 patients were examined and 1,435 visits made into the homes of tuberculosis patients, was revealed in the report of the secretary, Miss Orpha White, at the annual meeting of the board of directors.

Work done by the association in 1938 included the following:

Sixty-eight clinics were maintained by the association, with Dr. Charles K. Petter as examining physician, 1,402 patients were examined, 384 of whom attended the clinic for the first time; 376 X-rays were advised; 276 tuberculin tests were given; 1,435 visits were made into homes of tuberculosis patients and in the interest of the association.

Patients Come in

Patients came from all parts of the county. Some were contacts brought in through the advice of Dr. Petter and the nurse; some were sent by family physicians who wished a consultation with Dr. Petter; others were suspects and arrested cases returning for follow-up care; several children were brought in by school nurses; still others, reading the articles in the newspapers, became "tuberculosis conscious" and sought the services of their own accord.

Eighteen thousand folders relative to early diagnosis were distributed into homes of residents of Lake county; 350 programs were placed in the schools of Lake county during the holidays. Several schools promised to use them. These programs were a means of educating the children in right living, and incidentally, teaching something of the story of Christmas seals and their work in fighting tuberculosis; 14 meetings were attended in reference to business and tuberculosis problems. Talks were given and pictures shown referring to tuberculin testing in eight clubs, schools and Parent-Teacher associations.

Adding New Program

The association looks forward in 1939 to the possible addition of a new program. For a long time the association has considered tuberculin testing for certain age groups in the schools in Lake county, but funds were lacking. The money liberated through the gratuitous services of Dr. Petter to clinics and a liberal response to the Christmas Seal sale should make this work possible in 1939.

Two hundred and forty-six tuberculin tests have been given to school children the first six weeks in 1939. Three more schools have asked for this service and will be reached as soon as plans can be completed.

The work of the association is carried on with funds from the sale of Christmas seals. Five thousand, two hundred follow-ups are being mailed this week to those who have not answered Christmas seal letters mailed Nov. 25, hoping that the recipients will find it possible at this time to help with the work in 1939. It is never too late to contribute to the Christmas seal fund.

The usual clinics of the association will be held Wednesday and Friday mornings from 8:30 to 11 a. m. at St. Therese hospital.

Teachers Meet
at Cedar Lake

Practical methods for the better coordination of grade and high school work, so that there will not be quite so much of a "jump" when the pupil goes from one to the other, will be discussed at a meeting to be held by the local branch of the Illinois Educational association some time in the early spring.

Plans for the meeting were made at a business session and program held by the group Wednesday evening at the Cedar Lake school. L. A. Dixon, principal of the Lake Villa school; Miss Cornelia Roberts, of the Antioch High school faculty, and Mrs. L. R. Loftus of the Cedar Lake school were named as the committee for the coming meeting.

H. H. Reichers presided as chairman Wednesday evening. Discussion leaders included H. H. Reichers, on "Proposed Teachers Certification Laws"; W. C. Petter, on "Teachers' Pensions"; and Mr. Reichers on "Tenure of Positions."

L. O. Bright gave a talk on studies made by the publicity committee of the Lake Shore division of the Illinois Educational association.

Record for Security Interest

A nonrecalable American railroad bond issue of 1885, due to mature in 2361, will hold the record for the amount of interest paid on a single security, according to Collier's Weekly. When these bonds mature, the interest, during these 476 years, if paid, will have totaled $950,000,000, or 19 times the principal of $50,000,000.

What Do You Know About Health?

By FISHER BROWN and NAT FALK

WHO WAS

WHAT IS THE CAUSE OF
ORIENTALS?

Answers: 1. He was a British sea captain and great navigator who discovered Australia and New Zealand. His contribution to medicine was the discovery of the cure for scurvy.

2. Good humor aids digestion and was appreciated by the ancients who employed jesters to make jokes and puns at meal time.

1. A monotonous diet of polished

rice among the poorer classes. In the process of polishing, the coating is removed and with it the vitamin B. As a result, a hundred thousand of them die every year of beriberi, far more are made ill or crippled.

For us who subsist on a liberal mixed diet there is no danger whatsoever in eating polished rice, the preachings of food faddists notwithstanding.

'Eye for Freedom' Plea For Convict Is Denied

JACKSON, MICH.—Officials of Southern Michigan prison and state corrections department rejected the proposal of a 24-year-old convict to give up his right eye to a sightless man in return for his freedom.

The convict, Marby Underwood of Detroit, serving a 2 to 10 year term for obtaining money under false pretenses, offered his right eye because his wife was homeless and needed him. He said she was forced to sleep in all-night theaters.

In a letter to Warden Joel Moore, Underwood asked he be allowed to give the corner of his eye to William Lewis, 28, a Canon City, Colo., attorney who needs one to restore his sight. Four Colorado convicts awaiting execution have refused to aid the attorney.

Grizzly and Two Women Meet the Same Hard Luck

RONAN, MONT.—Mrs. Charles Joyce and her sister, Mrs. Fred Owens, together with a grizzly bear, all played in the same luck.

The two women were driving alone when a grizzly, evidently losing its footing on a nearby hillside, came bounding down the hill and landed plump on the front of the car. The women had no firearms and the bear was too groggy to attack them.

So both went different ways, the bear in a rather zig-zag manner and the auto at high speed.

Pussy Ends Long Life Of Ice Cream and Meat

BURBANK, CALIF.—Phil, a 17-year-old pet cat of an apothecary, died here of dropsy. The cat's utility during its long span of life had consisted of chasing away stray dogs.

By a daily balanced diet of ice cream and beefsteak, the druggist had been able to maintain its weight for years at 18 pounds.

Twilight for Hens

A new idea in artificial lighting for hens comes from Mr. and Mrs. William F. Ahlgrims, successful poultry keepers of Valparaiso, Ind., who have been turning out 500 eggs a day and selling them at top prices, according to Country Home magazine. The Ahlgrims use electric lights to prolong the feeding day, but found that suddenly turning them off on dark winter evenings made it difficult for the hens to find the roosts. Now they switch on first a string of dim lights which produce an artificial twilight. Ten or fifteen minutes later, after the hens have "retired," these lights are switched off.

With the Agriculturists

California farmers have three times as many autos as radios.

There are now more than 25,000,000 milk cows in the United States.

Supply of feed grains per grain-consuming animal is the largest in 12 years.

Lighting rod joints do not need to be soldered, but they should be properly clamped together.

The time to eliminate drafts in barns is before they cause damage to live stock.

Dairy cattle need a higher protein ration during the barn feeding period than they do in the summer time.

During winter months it will pay to go over every machine carefully and tighten loose bolts, oil and grease moving parts, replace broken or worn parts and paint the work.

Bird-Eating Spider Is Discovered in Australia

MELBOURNE, VIC.—This country of strange animals, birds and insects has discovered a new freak in spiders that eat birds.

John Clark, museum entomologist, swears to the discovery and says he found the legs of a newly killed young turkey half-way down the hole occupied by one of these monster spiders, which are Mygales. The largest recorded specimen was about nine inches in leg span, with a body as large as a banana's egg.

Another naturalist, Mr. R. Stead, states that in western and inland Australia there are dry salt lakes, on one of which he saw what he thought to be a large rat running and disappearing into its hole. He found it was an enormous spider, which sat back and showed fight.

Bird-eating spiders are found from Alice Springs, central Australia, to the edge of the Mallee, in Victoria.

Help! Snake Authority Has Rattler as Caller

TERRE HAUTE, IND.—An authority on reptiles which roamed the earth millions of years ago, Dr. Robert Karplinski, Indiana State Teachers college geologist, does not consider himself an expert on the twentieth century rattlesnake variety.

But when he heard the sound of a snake in a hall outside his laboratory last night, he summoned John Helm, night watchman. Together they disposed of the four-foot rattler after a thrilling battle. The snake had escaped from a wire cage in the zoology laboratory.

Rugged Individual Is Fined by English Court

BOURNEMOUTH, ENGLAND.—Appeasement has cost Abraham Hewitt, local hardware merchant, $25.50.

Hewitt deals in metal garbage cans, but for his own home he used a wooden box, thus violating a local ordinance. For 20 minutes the magistrate tried to persuade Hewitt to reconsider his firm stand and use a metal garbage can.

"Don't you ever change your mind?" the magistrate asked of Hewitt.

"No, sir," he replied. "My name is not Chamberlain. You can't Hitlerize me!"

As this was the third time that Hewitt was summoned for the same offense, he was ordered to pay $15.25 on the spot and $1 for each day he had violated the law.

Late for Trip to Gallows; 'So Sorry!' Commuted

SYDNEY, N. S. W.—Sentenced to death for shooting a tribesman in New Guinea, two native policemen almost missed the boat that was to take them away to be executed. They arrived breathless as it was about to sail, and apologized profusely.

The two were officers of the New Guinea native armed constabulary, and had killed the tribesmen when they found them suffering after a skirmish.

When the two arrived at Port Moresby, Papua, where they were to be hanged, they learned their sentence had been commuted to imprisonment.

Use Toys to Teach Tots Safety Rules

Miniature Cities Set Up in Ohio Playgrounds.

MANSFIELD, OHIO.—Nearly 500 pre-school age children were taught traffic rules during the summer by driving toy automobiles in the streets of miniature cities laid out on playgrounds.

Traffic Patrolman Fred C. Beals of the Mansfield police department and a playground instructor, Betty Braden, supervised the unusual traffic education program.

"The children now have a thorough understanding as to the meaning of the 'stop,' 'caution' and 'go' signals of traffic lights because miniature streets' traffic was regulated by small lights," Beals said.

"Although the children could not read—they were from 4 to 6 years old—they know now the meaning of traffic signals and of white lined pedestrian lines."

He said that he and Mrs. Ruth Robins, a kindergarten expert, devised the system to train the child at an early age in the principles of road safety so that these principles would eventually become automatic with him.

"The program works along the same lines as the beginner in school learns to write," Beals said.

"After he is taught the fundamentals of writing, he practices it until it becomes a thing that is guided by his subconscious mind."

Miniature cities were set up on six Mansfield playgrounds and one on a Shelby (Ohio) playground to carry out the traffic education program. One group of children were the pedestrians and another group drove the toy automobiles.

Beals said that the children who received this traffic training and who entered school this fall know how to cross streets safely on their way to and from school.

Marital Quarrels Over Tobacco in Past Shown

WASHINGTON.—Women's use of tobacco may cause marital strife in the Twentieth century, but it was the men's smoking that caused trouble in the Sixteenth century, books on display here reveal.

The collection of 3,500 volumes—some dating back to the Sixteenth century—was owned by George Arnets of New York, whose family has been interested in tobacco commerce and culture for three generations.

Arnets spent years collecting fine copies of all books referring to the weed that the Indians taught white men to use.

While men praised tobacco as the "holy herb" and "lovely weed," the women, the collection showed, frowned on the "fume suckers" that threatened marital happiness.

In "Tobacco Tortured," a wife pleaded with her husband to stop smoking.

"Oh, husband, my husband," she wailed, "mine only husband. Consider, I beseech thee, thy dear, thy loving and thy kind-hearted wife."

Why dost thou so vainly prefer a vanishing filthy fume before my permanent virtues. . . . How not I here brought forth an armie of children unto thee?"

Woman Leads as Trapper Of Predatory Animals

EAGLE PASS, TEXAS.—The record of trapping more mountain lions than any other person employed in the eradication of predatory wild animals by the Texas Predatory Animal Control association during the last fiscal year is held by Mrs. Bessie Kennedy of Eagle Pass. She has for her territory Maverick county, bordering the Rio Grande.

During the last 12 months Mrs. Kennedy has captured eight mountain lions, 154 coyotes, 40 bobcats, and many smaller predatory animals, according to C. R. Landon, district director of the association. She sets and looks after the traps herself.

Her husband also is one of the most successful trappers employed by the association. His work, however, is less difficult than that of his wife, because he is assigned to patrol a woven wire enclosure containing about 6,000 sheep. He captured during the year five mountain lions, 64 coyotes, and 28 bobcats.

California's First Jail Was Vessel, Records Show

SACRAMENTO.—Only historians remember that California's first prison consisted of a ship anchored off Point San Quentin, in San Francisco bay, back in 1852.

Old records in the state house brought this strange fact to light in connection with the early history of San Quentin prison, the penitentiary for first offenders on the north end of the bay.

For five years after the American occupation, California had no fixed penal laws or penal institutions. Local jails were scarce and the large ranches maintained their own adobe guardhouses for their lawbreakers.

Cross-road justice from the nearest tree in the early gold days seemed effective and sufficient.

After several years of leasing out prisoners to farmers, the legislature selected a site for a prison in 1852 and a prison ship was anchored until the buildings would be erected. The ship held 30 to 50 men.

Boy's Record as Runaway Piles Up Since Infancy

INDUSTRY, N. Y.—After returning James Rautsaw, 18, from his third escape trip this year, state industrial school authorities agree with the youth's relatives that it is difficult to keep him where he belongs.

Jimmy's record also includes 31 escapes—and apprehensions—in one year while committed to a detention house at Berkshires, Mich., authorities said.

The relatives, who live at near-by Penn Yan, revealed the boy's escapades began when, just out of the toddling age, he ran away on numerous occasions. In the hope that he might be "shamed" into staying home, they dressed him in girl's clothing.

A few hours later he was brought home by a social worker, who reported finding the "little lost girl" plodding along a road several miles from Penn Yan.

Source of Title 'Devil Dogs'
Somewhere in France, during the World war, the United States marines won the title "devil dogs." It is a translation of the German Teufel Hunde, or fierce fighting dogs of legendary origin, and the term is supposed to have been a compliment to the fierce fighting qualities of the sea soldiers from their erstwhile foes.

If You're Planning To Build

By W. S. Lowndes

Director, Schools of Architecture and Building
International Correspondence Schools

IN THE Spring many American families think of building new houses and plan homes which will be more ideal in every respect. Of course architects and building experts have to supply the technical knowledge, but if you are planning to build there are numerous little things to keep in mind. You should have some knowledge of the methods of construction and the building materials to be used. Keep in mind that the primary object of house-building is to make it into a harmonious unit. It is also important to know something of landscape gardening which will aid you in planning walks, lawns, trees and other decorative features.

The first object in designing a house is to provide comfort and protection, the second is to make it beautiful, and the third is to do these things in an economical manner. Saving in the first cost of a house is effected by making it as small as possible without sacrificing any of its essential requirements. Every house should be built so that it will be pleasing to the average house buyer. Expensive construction and peculiar design often interfere with the sale of a house, or compel the owner to sell at a sacrifice.

Beauty is an asset to any house. This element is not necessarily a matter of expense, but may be obtained by the application of thought and good taste to the design and arrangements. Certain elements, such as simplicity, symmetry, balancing of parts, good proportion and appropriateness, always contribute to the external beauty of a building.

The 'Scorton Arrow'
The "Scorton Arrow" originated in the Seventeenth century, when a group of archers in the village of Scorton created the contest. They awarded not only the arrow but also a "captaincy" to the first man scoring a bull's-eye in the contest. A silver bugle and "lieutenancy," a gold medal and a horn spoon were other prizes, says the Washington Post. Though the first written record of the "Ancient Scorton Arrow" is dated 1673, the contest is believed to be much older. But figuring just from the first known date, the arrow is still archery's most ancient award.

Welcome to Treasure Island

San Francisco's international exposition will open its doors to the world Saturday on the 400-acre man-made Treasure Island. Amidst the rush of last-minute preparations Miss Peggy Hayden, hospitality hostess dressed in cap and gown, is shown coaching San Francisco hotel employees on how to say, "Welcome to Treasure Island" in foreign tongues. Her students are Chef Marcel Behr and Miss Zenida London, a maid at a San Francisco hotel.

Dog an Understanding Beast

A dog is an understanding, patient, loving beast who gives his all and demands no return. He repays love with more love and neglect with fidelity. When others desert you, writes R. R. Taynton in the Washington Star, your dog will stand by. When others demand material tokens of your interest, your dog wants only a glance, a pat, a chance to be near you. If you are sad, busy, worried, your dog will sit quietly into your mood. If you are glad, frolicsome, playful, your dog more than gladly will share your happiness.

Original Mayflower Compact

It is not known what became of the Mayflower Compact. The oldest copy of the text known is that printed in "Mourt's Relation," in 1622. The oldest known list of the 41 signers of the compact is found in "New-Englands Memoriall," printed in 1669. A copy of the compact appears in Bradford's "History of Plymouth Plantation," written between 1630 and 1640.

'Camouflage' Snakes

Gaboon vipers and rhinoceros snakes, natives of West Africa, have coloring that corresponds to the yellow and brown of fall and are able to keep their presence a secret by hiding among the autumnal tints. The two types of snakes are closely related and are poisonous.

Trace Color Terms to Ox
The name buff as applied to a color was derived from the word buffalo, the common ox of the Old world which differs from our American buffalo or bison. The original application of the word buff meant a soft light leather of the chamois type, commonly used for soldier's uniforms in olden days. Likewise the word tan is an ancient term referring to the color of the ox hides tanned with an oak solution.

Indians Made Precision Arrows
Early California Indians made precision arrows, which rotated like modern rifle bullets, by attaching feathers in spiral formation.

Finds Secret to Seeing in Dark

Nutrition Chemist Attributes Faculty to Drinking Cod Liver Oil.

TUCSON, ARIZ.—A new use has been found here for cod liver oil—drink it and you can see at night like a cat.

At least that is the result of experiments of Dr. Margaret Cammak Smith, nutrition chemist of the University of Arizona, in attempting to cure "night blindness," a peculiar condition that develops in the eye from a lack of regeneration of "pigment purple," a vitamin A substance.

The blindness can be corrected in children by use of cod liver oil, Doctor Smith said.

Conducting a test of 127 undernourished children here for 10 weeks and many others during the last year, Doctor Smith said she had successfully corrected night blindness by daily doses of the oil.

Children Like Natural Oil.

The test also had its reverberations in the laboratories which furnished the cod liver oil, Doctor Smith reported. The children liked the natural kind better than the highly refined, odorless type which has been developed at the laboratory.

Doctor Smith started out to prove whether a lack of vitamin A in Mexican families of the low wage bracket was reflected in the children's vision, growth, susceptibility to disease, especially of the respiratory tract, and breaks in health, such as tuberculosis.

The answer to all these questions was "yes," Doctor Smith said.

Simple Test to Perform.

Despite its importance, the experiment was very simple to perform. Doctor Smith, with a biophotometer at hand, placed each child in a dark room until all the "visual purple" should have regenerated in the eye. Then a bright light was flashed in the child's eyes for three minutes. Then the child was placed in a dark room for the regeneration of the "visual purple" and its rate of regeneration tested.

Doctor Smith found that when she took over the 127 children 30 per cent had a normal eye, 13 per cent were borderline cases and 57 per cent were subnormal. Weight apparently had nothing to do with it, as only 11 per cent were underweight.

After the 10 weeks of the cod liver oil, another test was made. Two-thirds of them reached normal night vision and the other third had improved.

In a group not receiving the cod liver oil, Doctor Smith said no improvement was noted.

Mineral Food on Ranges For Cattle Being Tested

LAS CRUCES, N. M.—The animal husbandry department at State college is carrying the laboratory to cows on the range in a relatively new kind of experiment which will last for three years.

The work is intended mainly to find out if range cattle get enough calcium and phosphorus from normal range feeds, by determining the amounts of calcium and phosphorus in the blood.

Work of this nature has been done on dairy cattle, but results are not applicable to range work because it is impossible to get normal range data from feed lot tests.

Two separate groups of cattle are being used. One is quartered on a natural range pasture, the other with a mineral supplement. Results of this experiment should be valuable in determining the value of supplemental mineral-feeding for range cattle, college instructors said.

Range work of a similar nature is being done in Arizona and South Africa, school officials said. "Our experiment is somewhat different because they bring the blood samples into a laboratory before earling for them," a spokesman said.

Mobile Phone Exchange Starts Work in London

LONDON.—The postmaster general has inaugurated a new mobile automatic telephone exchange. Two years ago the postoffice introduced the first mobile postoffice to afford postal facilities at shows and other outdoor events.

The new exchange on wheels is the first in the world. It can be used for restoring telephone service if the ordinary exchange is out of action by fire or other calamity. It can also be used where unavoidable delay has occurred in completing a new exchange.

The unit is self-contained, with a petrol engine which automatically recharges the batteries as required. Rain water on the roof is collected and used for cooling the engine. The capacity of the unit is 100 circuits.

FARM TOPICS

HELP HENS BOOST WINTER EGG YIELD

Adequate Quarters, Rations Are Most Important.

By Dr. W. C. Thompson, Poultry Husbandman, New Jersey Experiment Station, WNU Service.

The old idea that high egg yields are unusual and difficult to obtain in winter has changed with the times. A yield of 50 per cent or greater is now a normal and requisite part of present day egg farming.

It has been firmly established that winter yields are partly a matter of inheritance of precocity, or early starting tendencies, partly a matter of surrounding well-bred birds with comfortable and adequate winter quarters, and partly a matter of furnishing those birds with well-balanced forcing rations. Winter season egg prices are generally relatively high and there is comparatively less competition from remote sections of the country. Poultrymen should attempt, therefore, to obtain high yields in this season. A more rigorous selection of the individuals housed and kept over winter is advisable. It is not a time when egg farmers can afford to keep boarders in their flocks, that is, hens which eat but do not lay. Adopt a high standard of quality for the layers now in winter quarters. Sell or eat the rest. Having done this, go over the laying quarters, making sure that they are clean, sanitary, draft-proof, comfortable, and that they provide sufficient room.

Crowded flocks are under a handicap. Uncomfortable birds rarely eat normally or lay heavily. Environment is an important factor in obtaining winter egg yields, particularly since outside weather conditions are so apt to fluctuate severely from day to day. The closer one can keep interior poultry house conditions normal, the better are the chances for prolonged, continuous, high egg yields.

Poultrymen must see to it that every layer has an unhindered opportunity to eat grain-mash and mash and drink water whenever she desires. Inadequate hopper and water fountain spaces and crowded conditions frequently make it impossible for otherwise good birds to perform satisfactorily as egg producers.

"When the Pilgrims landed," says Sir William Craigie, editor of the Dictionary of American English, "they drew lots for the division of ground. Each man's share of ground came to be referred to as his 'lot.' After that, any piece of ground was called a 'lot,' as it is today."

World's Largest Ice Field Found

Stretches Over 235 Miles In Alaska and Yukon, Expedition Says.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Discovery of what is believed to be the world's largest ice field and glacial group outside the polar regions has been announced in dispatches from Bradford Washburn, leader of the Harvard University-National Geographic society expedition to Alaska.

"Heads of the Martin river and Miles glaciers are also connected to the long icecap reaching from Cape St. Elias, in Alaska, to the Alsek river valley, in Yukon, discovered on our flight of August 20," Mr. Washburn wired to the society's headquarters.

"On a spectacular flight which circled Mount Logan and Mount St. Elias, second and third highest peaks on the North American continent, the expedition made aerial photographs of an unexplored area of southeastern Alaska, to be used later in mapping," the report to the society continues.

"This flight over icebound fastnesses, previously unvisited by man, reveals that the Bering glacier and the Malaspina glacier, whose known extent had already won for them the titles of the world's largest non-polar rivers of ice, are merely two overflows from a vast highland ice field shrouding a stretch of Alaska about 235 miles long, equal to the distance from New York city to Washington, D. C.

Long Latin Unseen.

"Explorations of the Harvard University-National Geographic society expedition have outlined a coast range of mountains, stretching from the Copper river valley above Cordova, Alaska, to the Alsek river valley in Canada's Yukon, which walls in a mighty reservoir of ice. Completely hidden behind the mountain wall, the mammoth octopus of ice has lain unseen and unapproachable, its size to be guessed only from the tentacles of glaciers it has clamped around the coastal range. Largest of the numerous streams of ice overflowing from this giant ice bowl, cupped high among peaks two and three miles above sea level, are the Bering and Malaspina glaciers—30 and 50 miles wide, after they have broken through the mountain wall and ground their way down almost to the sea.

"In a single flight of discovery over Alaska's newly revealed ice giant, the expedition saw more ice than is known in all the famous glaciers of Europe put together."

Summing up Washburn's reports and commenting on their significance, a bulletin from the National Geographic society says: "Photographing 1,500 square miles of territory, the expedition found (1) new ridges in the coast mountain range, (2) new glaciers between the range and the Chitina river 50 miles farther inland to the north, and (3) a glacier system uniting the Bering and Malaspina giants with the Seward glacier in the southeast and with the Miles glacier in the northwest.

Difficulties Encountered.

"Most of the newly discovered ice bowl lies athwart and to the west of the Alaska-Canada boundary line, just where it turns due north to the Arctic ocean. In surveying this frontier, famous as one of the longest straight-line borders ever marked, some of the difficulties in running the line along the 141st meridian were due to the eastward overflow of glaciers from the then unknown ice field. The massive glacier bowl pours its slow and irresistible flood across the border southeastward, between Mount Logan and Mount St. Elias, into the Seward glacier, which in turn adds its congealed volume to the great Malaspina.

"The great glacier system explains why there is no land communication between the southern 'panhandle' of Alaska, containing the capital, and the major portion of the territory to the north. The land link is 'broken' by a glacier barrier of more than 200 miles of perpetual ice.

"The Malaspina glacier is so extensive that it was not recognized as a glacier until 1880; rocks and soil cover the ice around the edges, and forests take root in the ice-borne earth. It is a composite ice stream formed by about a dozen conjoining glaciers, the largest of which is the Seward.

"When the new glacier system is mapped, there is little doubt that Alaska will be confirmed as the world's largest stronghold of the ice age outside the polar regions."
